NOTE D. In thinking carefully about the use of the terms "D" and "D'" in column 11, it is clear that an affirmative mark only will be used—thus, "✓"—except in the case of deceased persons, column 11, when the letter "D" is to be used. Since the question in 12 will only be asked in the case of deceased persons, the affirmative answer has been given either to question 10 or to question 11.

NOTE E. In column 11, an abbreviation for the name of the vessel may be used, but it must be given in full in column 12.

NOTE F. In column 7, an abbreviation for the name of the vessel may be used, but it must be given in full in column 12.

My only comment is that the word "where" in the question is ambiguous. It could mean "where" as in "at the place" or "where" as in "in the case of". In the first case, the question is asking for a specific location. In the second case, the question is asking for a specific situation or condition. I will assume the second case, as it is more likely to be the intended meaning. In this case, the answer is that the word "where" is used to introduce a clause that describes a situation or condition. For example, "I went to the store where I bought some milk." In this sentence, "where" is used to introduce a clause that describes the location where the action took place. Similarly, "I went to the store where I bought some milk and some bread." In this sentence, "where" is used to introduce a clause that describes the location where the action took place. In both cases, "where" is used to introduce a clause that describes a situation or condition. Therefore, the word "where" is used to introduce a clause that describes a situation or condition.

Note A.—The Census Year begins June 1, 1879, and ends May 31, 1880.

Phenol and bisphenol A are the main components of epoxy resins. The synthesis of epoxy resins is a two-step process. In the first step, phenol and bisphenol A react with epichlorohydrin to form a diglycidyl ether. In the second step, the diglycidyl ether is cured with a hardener to form the final epoxy resin.
